Mass City Drug Arrests Begin

A high blow by a Lobo coach

The largest drugnet in Canyon history began Wednesday and police expected between seven and 10 persons to be arrested by late that day.

The drugnet was a direct result of a trial on Tuesday and Wednesday in 181st District Court in Canyon and the result of the testimony of a witness in the case at trial.

Randall County Dist. Atty. George E. Dowlen said Wednesday afternoon warrants have been issued for the arrest of between 7 and 10 young persons in Canyon.

One person had been arrested by mid-afternoon Wednesday on charges of sale of narcotics. He had not been arraigned by press time.

City Police Chief Al Stewart said 21 lids of marijuana were confiscated from the home of the 22-year-old man arrested in the city.

He said seven or eight young persons remain to be arrested.

Names of those for whom warrants were issued were not released pending their arrest and arraignment.

Dowlen said the drugnet began Wednesday as a result of the trial in 181st District court for Jimmy E. Morrison, charged with assault with intent to rape a Canyon housewife. The trial went into its second day of testimony and argument Wednesday.

Dowlen said one of the witnesses called in the trial was Ron King, a transient until mid-June of this year, who has been working as an undercover agent for the Canyon Police Department since that time.

"When we discovered that we would have to reveal in this case (the Morrison trial), King's name and occupation, we met early this morning and filed seven or eight charges," Dowlen said.

King testified shortly before noon in the Morrison trial and revealed that he had been working since June 15 as an undercover agent for the Canyon department. He also testified that he had made several cases that had been filed earlier Wednesday.

King was called by the prosecution in the Morrison case and testified that he had seen Morrison in a Canyon laundromat during the noon hour on the day a Canyon housewife has told jurors she was assaulted.

King said he was hired the day following the day the housewife says she was assaulted and after he met Stewart through the

Initial OK Given City Bdg. Plans

Tentative approval was given by city commissioners Tuesday night to final schematic drawings on a new civic center complex which could cost between $1 million and $1.7 million to construct.

Tentative approval was also given the architectural firm of Hennington, Durham and Richardson to proceed into the next stage of development on the civic center complex — the design-development phase.

Paul Watson, architect in charge of the Canyon project, presented the final schematics Tuesday night and listened again as minor changes were made in the structure of the office building.

Members of the Canyon Library Board and the city fire department gave their stamp of approval to the building plans during the meeting after minor alterations.

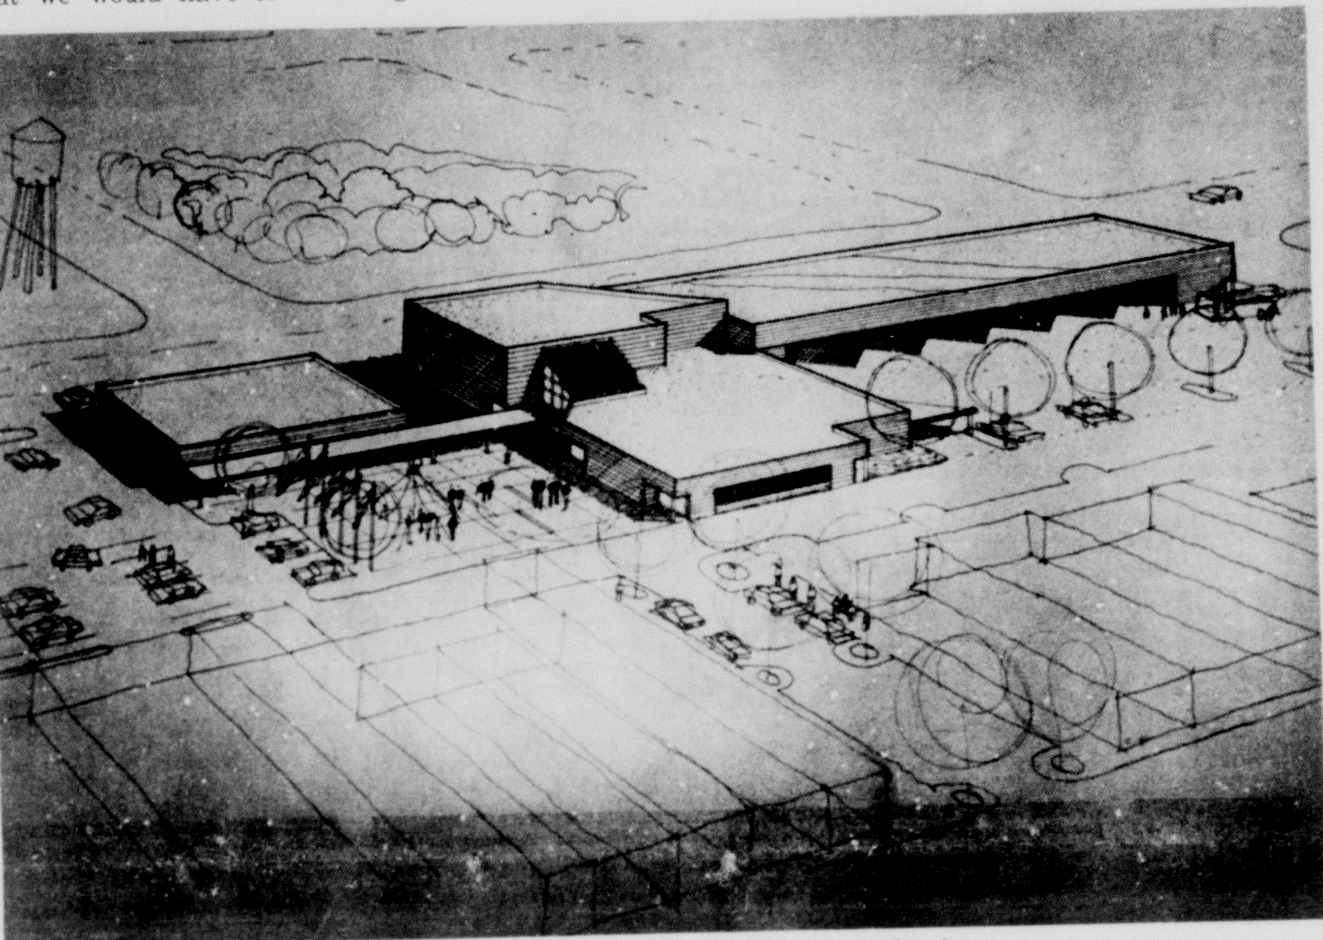

Watson said the next stage in development of the project will involve detail drawings of the building and commissioners will have to make decisions on such things as floor coverings, wall coverings and door placement.

Following the final design stage, he said, will come the pre-construction phase which will see the plans finalized and readied for bid letting.

Watson presented a very tentative outline of costs involved in the project, as instructed in the firm's contract with the city.

His figures indicate the cost of the new city office building with visitor parking and minimum surrounding work will cost $956,000. Cost of a separate activities center to replace the community center will be about $406,000. Project costs including architect's fees will be $340,000 for a total project cost of about $1.7 million.

City Manager George Louder said following the meeting that the commission has little intention of Artist's conception of new civic center complex for city.

Eagles To Play Dumas

The Canyon Eagles, after suffering their first loss in district action last weekend, go into a game Friday night in Canyon against a team ranked as one of the top two or three in the district.

The Dumas Demons come to Canyon's Kimbrough Memorial Stadium for the 7:30 p.m. match, which pits two district contenders in a battle which could well set the stage for the district crown.

Canyon had been mentioned prior to the season as a possible district crown contender. (See EAGLES, page 5)

Jury Finds Morrison Innocent After Two Days Of Testimony

A 181st District Court jury found Jimmy E. Morrison innocent after 25 minutes of deliberation Wednesday afternoon here.

Morrison had been charged with assault with intent to rape in connection with the assault of a Canyon housewife in mid-June. The jury went into deliberation about 2:35 p.m. Wednesday and returned its verdict about 3 p.m. after two days of testimony before Judge Don Dean.

Conflicting testimony marked the trial of Morrison, Amarillo paperhanger.

The prosecution and defense closed their cases at noon Wednesday in the second day of the trial and returned after lunch to make their final arguments before the jury.

Conflicts in testimony primarily concerning Morrison's whereabouts during the noon hour on June 14 became apparent after the state rested its case during the afternoon Tuesday.

An initial defense witness told jurors Morrison was at her home hanging wallpaper during the noon hour on June 14.

A prosecution witness called Wednesday told jurors he saw a man who looked like the defendant in the B&W Laundromat on June 14 during the noon hour.

The basic facts of the case were established early in the trial by the prosecutrix, who took the stand twice during the two-day hearing.

She told jurors she and her 3-year-old daughter had gone to the laundromat about noon to wash clothes and upon arriving there found a man who appeared to be working on the machines.

After about 10 minutes, she said, she and her daughter went to the Dairy Queen to buy lunch and returned to the laundromat to eat.

Upon returning, she testified, the man was not in sight but then abruptly returned from within the laundromat.

"I went over to take my clothes out and he asked if he could bum a cigarette," she said.

Then, following a short interval she said she turned around and the man was holding her daughter and what appeared to be a hunting knife, with the blade at her daughter's chest.

The man told her, she testified, to go back to the men's restroom, and said that if she didn't he would kill her daughter.

In the restroom, the woman testified, she was ordered to disrobe and allow the man to fondle her.

After several minutes the man tied her and her daughter together on the floor of the restroom with telephone wire and left.

She said neither she nor her little girl were harmed physically. She identified Morrison as her assailant and later elaborated on her testimony when asked to corroborate her identification of him in a lineup and from police photographs.

Legal Stumbling Block Placed In Annexation

Canyon School Board members, involved since last winter with proposals, discussions and counter-proposals on Amarillo school district's desire to annex about 11 sections of land, posed a legal stumbling block for that move Monday night.

After hearing from Carl Hare, president of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, who asked that the board consider allowing appointment of a citizens study committee on the annexation issue, the board through president Tom Keeling and Supt. Jerry Jacobs said they are not even sure the Amarillo proposal is legal.

And, they said it is Amarillo's responsibility to determine the legality of its proposal.

Hare appeared with Raymond Raillard, chamber president from Canyon, to talk with the board about his original proposal made in Amarillo that a committee of citizens from Canyon and Amarillo study the annexation and make recommendations to the Amarillo and Canyon school boards.

The judges of Potter and Randall counties, the mayors of Canyon and Amarillo and Hare and Raillard met recently in Canyon to appoint such a committee, but reached an impasse when several representatives opted for seeking Canyon board approval of the move.

"I was asked by our school board (in Amarillo) if there is some way we might cooperate in the situation between our communities," Hare said. "There is a definite problem here. My concern is not only for the Amarillo area, but Canyon and the full area you all cover. Obviously, our interest is in the education of the children in involved and second who can do that most economically."

Hare said a study committee would examine those two questions.

He termed the annexation of the land, however, central to Amarillo's future growth.

"Amarillo needs room to grow badly and very rapidly," he said. Jacobs said the Amarillo and Canyon boards have toyed with several ideas for the exchange of the land, including ideas which would involve the transfer of

WTSU Professors Say

Nixon Not Out Of Trouble Yet

Three West Texas State University government professors who examined the Watergate Scandal two months ago for The News took another look this week following the events of last weekend concluding that impeachment proceedings will probably continue and rightfully so.

Dr. Walter Shelly, Dick Jackson and David Matthis told

The News they believe impeachment investigations will continue on the basis described by U.S. Rep. Carl Albert.

And, Matthis said that if impeachment proceedings are continued they should be accomplished in an orderly fashion.

"Congress unlike the President should not proceed precipitously and just react from day to day," Matthis said.

The three agreed that Congress action for impeachment will probably not be toned down even with the President's action Tuesday to release the so-called Watergate tapes to Federal Judge Sirca.

Shelly contends that "the president has painted himself into a corner where he can no longer provide effective leadership for this country," and upon that contention he believes a case could be made for impeachment.

Quoting from the Declaration of Independence, Shelly said the American revolution was not the result of one main act by King George, but rather the result of King George's attitude and actions taken as a whole.

WT Constitution Elevates Faculty

A proposed constitution which would give the West Texas State University faculty considerable say in their own tenure, salary and curriculum policies was left substantially unchanged Monday following a review by members of the local chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

The group is to meet again Monday to continue discussion on the proposed constitution. Following that meeting, it is to be submitted to the university president, and the current Faculty Council among others. Discussion Monday centered primarily around items of little relative importance to the overall thrust of the document, prepared by government professor George Rutter.

A by-article analysis reveals the following information concerning the proposal:

Article one is a general statement concerning the powers and responsibilities of the faculty in relationship to the powers and responsibilities of university officials and the board of regents. The article says the faculty will have the power to set degree requirements, the power to determine appointments, promotions and tenure — even of the university president, in which case the faculty power

COVERING FUMBLE
By Dean Mitchell Jones

Have you ever thought how dull this world would be without the folly of the men and women in it!

A Levelland Lobo coach let his head run away with him Friday night during that team's outing with the Canyon Eagles, as illustrated by the above photographs. Visible in the lower center portion of each photograph is the sequence of events as the coach tackled Canyon quarterback Ed Lair by the facemask and head and brought Lair to the ground. The top photo shows the coach's head barely visible, while the second, third, fourth and fifth show explicitly the tackle made by the coach. The arrows show the action.

CANYON RIM

In an effort to court Amarillo support, Jack Donovan, the public information director at West Texas State University, has been using an Amarillo dateline on stories originating on campus.

West Texas State needs the support of Amarillo but not any more than it needs the support of the remainder of the Panhandle. As a matter of fact, Amarillo needs the Panhandle a lot more than the Panhandle needs Amarillo.

Donovan's decision, which he admits having made on his own, makes me see red for several reasons. First, it was Canyon people who put up $100,000 back in 1910 when a dollar was a dollar to bring West Texas Normal School to Canyon.

Per capita population Canyon has supported West Texas State better than anyone including Amarillo. I cite particularly the Buffalo Club and the Nance Ranch project.

Canyon had an unofficial quota of $5,000 on the Nance Ranch project but Canyon people subscribed $17,000. If Amarillo had done as well, it would have had to subscribe $250,000.

This is not a hate Amarillo piece. I love Amarillo because it was there that I learned the newspaper business working for the legendary Gene Howe, an immortal newspaperman who ranks with Horace Greeley and William Allen White in my books.

I'd like to see Amarillo assume leadership of the Panhandle instead of competing with every hamlet and village in the Golden Spread.

If the Panhandle is to progress as it should, Amarillo is going to have to help Golden Spread communities instead of competing with them.

And I think events of the past two years have shown that Amarillo leadership is beginning to do just that. I think men like Ray Vahue, Gene Klein, and Boone Pickens as well as scores of others want to see West Texas

The West Texas State University Soccer Club opened its season earlier this month and go into the University of Texas Homecoming Invitational this weekend at El Paso.

The club lost its season opener Oct. 14 against Texas Tech 5-3.

The Club will host the North Texas Soccer Referees Association in a referee's clinic here on Nov. 10 and will play two more home games this season — one on Nov. 17 against Eastern New Mexico and the other on Nov. 18 against Texas Tech.

An unrecognized and unfinanced sport at WTSU for three years, soccer is played by the club behind Jarrett Hall on the campus.

Team members include Banyat Adipat of Hereford, Tariq Alix of Canyon, Mark Brigham of Clarendon, Jim Cooper of Canyon, H. D. Hargrove of Midland, Robert Malphurs of El Paso, Bruce Merrell of Claude, Stanley Mong of Canyon, Dan Nelson of Odessa, Phil Newton of Amarillo, Dave Sewright of Dumas, Randy Tarbet of Shamrock, Rob Thomas of Perryton and Syed Arif Ali of Canyon.

20 Accidents Investigated

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 20 accidents on rural highways in Randall County during the month of September, according to Sergeant Clint Culp, Highway Patrol supervisor of this area.

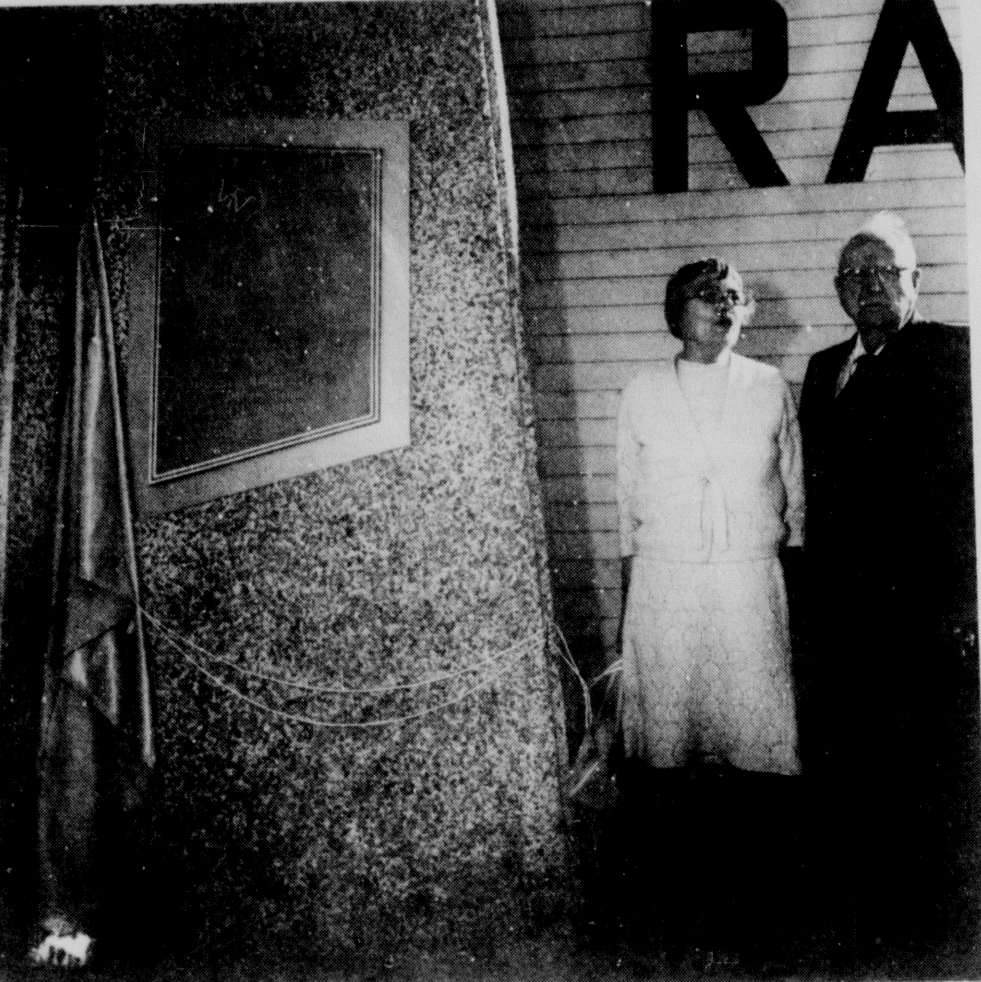

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and nine persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first nine months of 1973 shows a total of 160 accidents resulting in four persons killed and 86 persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 60 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety Region for September, 1973 shows a total of 601 accidents resulting in 24 persons killed and 364 persons injured as compared to September, 1972 with 561 accidents resulting in 21 persons killed and 335 persons injured. This was 40 more accidents, three more fatalities, and 29 more injured in 1973 at the same period of time.

The traffic deaths for the month of September, 1973 occurred in the following counties: Five each in Hardeman and Montague Counties; two each in Palo Pinto, and Gray Counties; and one each in Cochran, Floyd, Hale, Knox, Parker, Wise, Armstrong, Hansford, Ochiltree, and Potter Counties.

Bufs Host Shockers Sat.

West Texas State University's Buffaloes return to the Missouri Valley Conference football wars at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in Wichita, Kan., against the Wichita State Shockers.

The Buffaloes will be seeking to even their MVC record, while the Shockers will be after their first conference victory. West Texas stands 1-2 in conference play, beating Drake, but losing to Tulsa and North Texas State.

Wichita State, under coach Bob Seaman, has lost its two conference starts to New Mexico State and Louisiana.

West Texas will carry a 2-4 into the Saturday afternoon game — the same record that is held by Wichita State. The other Buffalo victory came in a non-conference game against Lamar University. Both Shockers victories — against Arkansas State and Fresno State — have come in non-conference games.

The Buffaloes exploded for 321 total offensive yards in Saturday's 36-14 loss to Utah State, but they allowed the Aggies 431 yards on offense. West Texas had 199 rushing yards and 122 yards through the air.

Tight end Merced Solis, who caught five passes in the Utah State game, now leads the team with 23 receptions in six games for 338 yards. He is now tied with Roy Ammentrout as the ninth leading pass receiver in West Texas State's history. He has 34 career receptions.

Quarterback Don Nava completed 10 passes against Utah State, but suffered two costly interceptions. One of the interceptions was returned for a touchdown and the other set up an Aggie scoring match at the Buffalo 17-yard line.

Nava, the strong-armed junior college transfer from Redwood, Calif., has now completed 56 of 109 passes this season for 760 yards and one touchdown.

Kick Schleider, who was used only as a messenger against Utah State, could be ready to play against Wichita State. The strong little running back from Wichita Falls suffered a concussion against Northern Illinois and has seen only limited duty since then.

Schleider was used by coach

Dr. Stoker To Lecture Today

The British Open School System, a program of individualized education that is attributed with eliminating 90 per cent of England's school discipline problems, will be the subject of a slide presentation today by Dr. W. M. Fred Stoker, director of school services at West Texas State University.

About 50 area principals and supervisors are expected to attend the seminar, which is slated from 9:30 a.m. to noon today in Room 216 of the Activities Center.

The British Open School, which was introduced in England about 14 years ago, departs from the concept of standardized education and provides an individual educational program for each child, Dr. Stoker says.

The teacher's role under the system is more that of a guide or motivator rather than a lecturer, he says. No elementary-age child fails under the program, he said. Rather, the child proceeds with his studies at his or her own pace, he said.

Dr. Gene Carlisle, assistant professor of chemistry, is faculty advisor for the WTSU chapter.

Still Harvesting

By MILDRED TURNER

WELL, WE'RE STILL harvesting maize and I have had very few phone calls, so there's not much to report. I wrote this out in the field in my spare moments, which are few. Thought someone might enjoy it.

THIS LITTLE CLOD

I've been here and I've been there:

On the highways and in the air...

Admired breathtaking scenes beyond compare.

But "there's no place like home" be it ever so fair.

I beheld with awe and wonder the great waters deep.

The waves rising up, the blue sky to meet...

"God measured the waters in the hollow of one hand,"

The mountains He measured with a span.

"The earth is the Lord's" I'd like to view from end to end.

I enjoy visiting various places with my kith and kin;

Yet, I always get to yearning for home and toil

On my own blessed little lump of soil.

Folks say, "I'd like to see a miracle today."

They are happening everywhere along life's way;

That tiny tiny "seed pushing up that heavy clod"

Is only one of the many miracles of God.

The murmur of the creek, the cottage on this hill

The little squirrels playing, the singing whippoorwill,

The cardinal and blue jays in the cottonwood tree,

Join the leaves whispering as they all seem to say

"This is our own little lump of clay."

God made this great planet earth; yet He gave a lump to me,

Unique and beautiful, He also made the sea,

The sun, the moon, the stars watching in the sky.

And neighbors like you on the little lump nearby.

Love u,

Tax Problems Aired

City commissioners and Canyon school board members agreed Monday night they're not interested in financing another massive examination of tax valuations in the area, but indicated an interest in any recommendations the board of equalization might come up with to make taxes more equal with true market value.

The result could be another rise in taxes for taxpayers in the city and school district.

During a joint session to discuss tax office operation Monday, the two boards discussed the state of taxes in the two governmental areas.

Tax collector-assessor for both entities, Conway Kuykendall, said tax values were last brought up to date with market values in 1967.

Noting the rapid rise in construction costs and land values since that time, Kuykendall said new houses being built in the taxing area are paying much less than they should on the basis of fair market value.

In fact, he said, taxes charged to new houses amount to only about 65 to 75 per cent of fair market value.

This is also true, Kuykendall said, of valuations on real property in the district, values which have risen on the market but have not risen on the tax rolls.

Both boards agreed it is the job of the school-appointed board of equalization to come up with a solution to the problem, but also agreed they are not ready for a massive revaluation of property.

Kuykendall said following the meeting that the equalization board examined the problem last spring and recommended to the city commission and the school board that if more money was needed, they should raise the tax rates rather than reevaluate.

He said the problem will be again referred to the board when it reconvenes next spring.

The two boards came together Monday night primarily to examine the operations of their joint tax office over the past year, but City Manager George Louder had a surprise proposal waiting for school board representatives. Louder proposed that the city pay 5 per cent of the total tax roll as its part in the maintenance of the office for the next year, but that the rate be lowered to 4 per cent for the following year.

Louder based his proposal on figures which indicate it is costing the tax office only about $3.07 per $100 on the tax roll to collect city taxes.

School board members proved hesitant to back up on the 5 per cent figure and it was generally agreed that when the two boards meet for the same purpose next fall they discuss again the method of financing with an eye toward a possibly different system.

6th Graders Presented Veterans Program

Along The Grapevine

By TROYCE MULHERIN
New Face Greetings:
TOOTIE — DON'T KNOW whether to apologize to you, or say thank you — rather enjoyed that mix up in the photos. Sure an easy way to get a new face!

THERE WAS SOME entertaining and thought provoking singing going on at Gene Howe last Monday. The Sixth Grade Choir presented a heart-touching, toe-tapping musical to their fellow students in observance of Veterans Day. The title of the production was, "I Am The Nation," and half the hall was filled with proud parents! Mrs. Margie Phillips conducted the selections, while several youngsters took turns at the piano, on the bells and other instruments. Some drums were being drummed, too.

IN HIS ACKNOWLEDGEMENT to Mrs. Phillips and the sixth graders, Mr. Lawless noted that, "We have some of the finest students, teachers and parents at Gene Howe. Further, that sometimes we fail to stop and think of the great opportunities we have as Americans." He voiced everyone's feeling that it is a cherished privilege to have the opportunity to come together for a program like the one presented, for a renewal of our faith and love of our great nation.

A BIT OF levity: Actually saw Mrs. Phillips sit down to play the piano for one number. All you program-goers will be astounded to learn this — she always intrigues us by her standing-while-playing ability! Good show, Margie!

WANT IN ON some high-class, hair-raising and spine-tingling action? It's available — thanks to the Canyon Band Parents Association! The Haunted House has been moved to 8th and 23rd Streets in Canyon (23rd Street is also known as the Lubbock Highway). The creepy, squeaky doors will open at 7:30 p.m. for the first time Friday night, the 26th. The ghostly goings-on will continue on the 27th, (closed Sunday the 28th), and open again on the 29th, 30th and 31st.

ADULT TYPES, INCLUDING those who never really became "too old" or "too big" for trick and treatin', will find themselves as welcome as the little people. Tickets for the young at heart and for the young in fact are fifty cents each. Pre-ticket sales started last Tuesday at Gene Howe and at Rex Reeves. Ada Solbrig will again beat Gene Howe this Friday, the last day for such pre-sale. Thereafter, the tickets will be available at the door.

SOME NEW GHOULISH happenings are in the offering, as well as some action in a dark, dark cave, a maze, and other items too horrible to mention here. A concession stand (legitimate) will be open this year, with popcorn, drinks, candy apples and cookies available for the strong-at-heart (and strong-at-stomach). Souvenir items will also be available. Anyone for a dismembered hand?

SHERRIE CATES, ONE of the co-chairwomen for the event, relates that this group of parents has really been working hard on this project. Special thanks to some dads, who worked all day, and then worked several evenings building walls, frames and wiring, etc. S.T. Woods, Don Pigg, Pete Solbrig and Harley Sallee rate as special dads receiving special thanks. Be sure to treat yourselves and the youngsters to a tour of this Haunted House. A great way to celebrate Halloween.

NOVEMBER 2, A Friday night, is the big day for Gene Howe school. Since Nov. 9 is a school holiday for the youngsters, the annual chili supper has been moved to Nov. 2. Don't go on the 9th — you will be too late for the goodies. Go on the 2nd.

THE MENU will deliciously be the same as before: chili or hot dog, beans, cake or pie, and drink. The chili and cake and pie get top billing of "homemade."

THIS PAST THURSDAY every child at Gene Howe was given three tickets to take home, either for selling or for returning. Please note: the child (or his mom and pop) does not have to buy these tickets. If the family will be unable to come, or if the child is unable to sell same to friends or neighbors, the tickets can be returned to the school. Of course, additional tickets can be obtained if needed. Ladies will be at the school in the mornings Friday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week to process tickets and ticket proceeds. The tickets are $1.25 for adults and school children. Fifty cents for pre-schoolers will be payable at the door.

AS IN THE past, there will be a contest regarding ticket sales on each grade level. That is, the kindergarten through third will compete with each other only, and the fourth through sixth grades will compete with each other only. Prizes are as follows: first place — $5.00; second place — $3.00; third place — $2.00; and, fourth place — $1.00. (These cash prizes are to be given in both intermediate and primary levels). A banana split party will be given to the room with the most cash sales in the intermediate and primary levels, too. The contest will close on Wednesday of next week, and the cash prizes given upon that day.

ASIDE FROM THE good eating, and the winning of prizes and banana split parties, the most important feature of this chili supper is the gathering of the clan, so to speak! This is an excellent opportunity to be a part of your school and your community. Moms and dads are looking forward to working and helping during the evening. (Really and truly). Great opportunity to get to visit with your neighbors and friends! Do make plans to attend! (Anyone wanting to help with the manual labor portion, who has not had the golden opportunity of signing up, should feel free to call one of the members of the executive committee of the PTA and get on the list). You are welcome!

THE CANYON BAND Parents Association will have their gift paper and ribbon available the night of the chili supper. Those excellent $2.00 cookbooks will be there, awaiting a nice home.

TREAT YOURSELVES IN another way — go, run, don't walk, to the showing by Betty True and Winona Molesworth at The Gallery. Betty has some fantastic photos (big and beautiful), and, Winona is displaying some lovely paintings in oils and watercolors. The place is The Gallery in Amarillo at 204 S. Western. The two-week show will end Nov. 14th, so do make plans to see the goodies — worth a trip from anywhere!

A PARTY IS a party is a party is a party. And, birthdays give good cause to party giving. Even grown-up type people like parties. So — Dee Delaney was surprised with a luncheon recently in honor of her day. Arlean Todd and Cindy cooked up a turkey with dressing, and Glandeen Shenk and Shelley furnished a homemade cake. (They would not say how many candies appeared thereon). Jo and Janice Delaney joined in on the eating and singing of the birthday song.

TURN-ABOUT IS fair play — so, Arlean found herself the honoree of a birthday coffee last Thursday. Dee Delaney served as hostess for the morning, and Billie Erwin made the lovely floral arrangement decorating the serving table. Marcelle McDivitt, Glenna Schmidt, Beth Balke, Cleo Todd, Helen Dwyer and yours truly tried unsuccessfully to coax an ordered set from the birthday girl. Arlean claimed she didn't have to tell, 'cause her day wasn't actually until the 20th. She did mention something about having something in common with Jack Benny. Draw your own conclusions! Hee, hee!

TALK ABOUT PLAYS and passes (relating to football-type plays and passes, of course) was rampant during the Saturday morning coffee at Beth Balke's home. Mrs. John Childs and Glenna Schmidt served as co-hostesses for the approximately 35 ladies there, each of whom happened to be a mother of at least one of the seventh grade football players. There were a few mothers who were momentarily forgetful of just which team their son served. But, having been threatened with dire consequences, no names will be named. Very enjoyable morning, giving these bench-warming mothers an excellent opportunity to place a mother with a son.

GENE HOWE'S WEBELOS visited the Tule Creek Dam Project near Tulia this past weekend. Adult types going on the field trip included Billy Edwards, Frank Ford, Buster Carlile and Bob Scott. Ronnie Kyle, Kelly Mayfield, David Bromley, Charlie Cox, Shannon Edwards, Duane Dove, Jody Detton, Steve and Tim Stokes, Tim Carlile, John Hanson, Kenny Nagunst, Mike Scott, Lynn Gregory, Charles Colbalt, Kent Newcomb, Scott Hetzler, Jeff Pike, David Gensler, and Chuck Ford all found their fair share of arrow heads, flints and old bones. The group was treated to a tour of the dam site, presently in the process of being constructed, with appropriate explanations being given by the head engineer of the project.

THE PURPOSE OF the field trip was to enable the Webelos to work on their engineering badge. The highlight of the trip was the killing of a rattlesnake. Poor snakeypoo found himself skinned and is now residing in the Edwards' freezer. Plans are to cook him and serve him up at some future pack meeting. The skin was salted and stretched, etc., and will be on display at said meeting. Be on the alert thou of weak tummies!

HAPPIES TO CHET Smith on the 21st, and to Wes Bromley on the 25th.

AMARILLO CITY COUNCIL (PTA) sponsored its biannual Leadership and Parliamentary courses last week at the school Administration Building in Amarillo. Jackie Mayfield attended the parliamentary course, and Bettye Stokes attended the leadership course; both ladies representing Gene Howe.

KATHY AND JERRY Martindale have returned from a glorious week in Acapulco. Kathy's mom, Mrs. Tom Riley, came from Canadian to stay with the Martindale youngsters, practicing some grandmother-type spoiling, of course! The highlight of the trip, as far as Kathy is concerned, was the jet flight down. First time for her on a biggie, and she was quite impressed with that 707. The Martindales got in some deep sea fishing, saw several shows, and attended numerous dinner parties. They particularly enjoyed the beach and the swimming. Upon their arrival home, that precious Mrs. Riley had everything under control and had prepared some meals in advance. Nice welcome home from a lovely trip!

ONE TEAM REPORTED in this week: The fifth and sixth grade football team, co-coached by Bob and Dennis Trook, won over Claude 9-0. Monte Johnson made the touchdown and David Blaylock ran the extra point.

Two other points were picked up by our boys forcing the Claude team back over their own goal line whilst the Claude team was in possession and trying for a score! This team has also recorded a 12-7 win over Lander-gin, with Daryl Hawkins racking up both touchdowns. This team is now tied for first place in its league!

DOUBLE HAPPIES TO Debbie Ramaekers and to Sharon Ramaekers. Debbie's happy is on the 22nd, and Sharon's is on the 23rd.

ANOTHER LADY TO contact for the band paper and ribbon is Virginia Maxwell, 8122 South Western, 353-7093!

THANKS FOR THE use of the hall and the calls. Troyce — 352-6053

WT Student Prexy For National Organization

A West Texas State University student has been elected president of the student chapter of the National Association of Industrial Technology.

Lyndell Murrell, Canyon freshman, was elected to the post at a conference of the national organization held last week in Denver.

Other WTSU students attending the meet were Steve Burney, Dean Schickedanz, Dennie Kennedy and Steve Bort. All are members of the WTSU Industrial Association, an organization consisting of students majoring in industrial technology, education and distribution.

Other schools represented at the conference included Texas A&M, Tuskegee Institute, Colorado State University and the University of Southern California at Long Beach.

Homecoming activities for the WT Industrial Association included the raffling off of a Corvus Calculator. A spokesman for the organization announced that the $100 calculator went to Mrs. Libby Read, fifth grade teacher at Rex Reeves Elementary School.

By MARY ALICE HINES

WELL, LAST WEEK was pretty much taken up with W.T.'s Homecoming activities. Dean Weldon Trice got to take a little trip on a donkey, after the men's dorms' exceeded the required amount of firewood for the bonfire. Vice-President for Student Affairs, Paige Carruth was given the dubious honor of walking, be-hine with a scoop to clean any incidental debris off the road.

The Nance Ranch dedication had a good turnout, about 500 people attended. Mr. and Mrs. Lovell Jones have very generous hearts to give a 2400 acre ranch to the college. John C. White, the Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, pointed them out for "giving the greatest gift they could give" to the university. I feel like the greatest gift anyone could give is their love, and the Joneses gave a true gift of love in the form of their ranch.

At the game Saturday night, retired Dean Mitchell Jones sat in front of us with Martha Smith, the July Playmate. For awhile we were speculating whether or not Mitch had won the date for the evening. But after they were introduced to the crowd and he presented her with a Mitch Jones Hall tee-shirt, she left. It was announced that Henry Hamilton, center for the Buffs, had won the date.

Saturday morning, the Wives, Etc., had a nice attendance at their Style Show Brunch. Mr. Munday of Sakowitz presented the style show. While sitting there watching the beautiful fashions, I had a strange sensation that I had seen these before. Remember the argyle sweaters and the cashmere dresses and sweaters? Well, girls, they are back and they have a beautiful 70's look to them. But I sold all of mine at a garage sale years ago. And the Racoon-collared coat, that I just gave up this last year, was back in all its glory. Oh well, if I would have saved them and tried to wear them now, they would look like something from the 50's that I had pulled out of a trunk.

THIS WEEKEND THE area convention for the Beta Sigma Phi sorority was held in Hereford. All three Canyon chapters had representatives attending. The Alpha Theta Delta chapter came home with a third place in the Yearbook Competition.

ON SATURDAY, NOV. 10th at 8 p.m. in the Happy High School Auditorium, the Happy Volunteer Fire Department will present the Joe Paul Nicholas Show. The tickets are 50 cents a piece for the Country and Western Stage Show. Many Happy and Canyon merchants have complimentary tickets, so you can get in free with one of these tickets. The proceeds will go into the fire department's equipment fund and they are hoping to raise enough money for 500 feet of fire hose.

WELL, THAT IS all for this week. Remember the Halloween Carnival at the Bull Barn, Wednesday night. Call me if you have any news, 655-9978.

Premiers Will Give Gospel Concert Sun.

A gospel concert will be given by the Premiers, from Austin, Sunday at 7 p.m. at the Faith Chapel, Canyon, with the public invited to attend.

Members of the group have written many of their more popular songs, and include current gospel hits and arrangements of older gospel songs and hymns in their concert. The Premiers record for Calvary records, Fresno, Calif., one of the leading labels in gospel music.

The key to their success has been attributed to their sincerity and dedication to God and the primary purpose of the group is to spread the Good News of Jesus Christ.

News Brief

Tuesday, Oct. 30, is the last day for Camp Fire Girl groups to sign up for the candy sales.

money to the Canyon district. But, he said, no one has yet really looked into the legality of Amarillo's annexation without the existence of a petition from landowners in the area involved.

Jacobs said he isn't sure that the only way the annexation can be accomplished is through the petition effort. So far, no petitions for the annexation have been presented.

Hare asked if that meant that Canyon was interested in the annexation only if a petition were presented.

President Keeling said the board would be glad to have the help and expertise of an outside study group, but felt that the legality of any move should be thoroughly researched.

And, said Jacobs, since Amarillo is the party interested in the annexation, it should be their responsibility to have the law investigated.

In other business, the board heard a request from Amarillo developer Glenn O'Dell who said he has built two houses on property not in the 11 sections proposed for annexation into the Amarillo school district, but would like to have his property also annexed to Amarillo.

O'Dell said the persons who have purchased the houses he's built do not now have children, but have said they would prefer to have their children go to Amarillo schools.

Keeling pointed out that by the time the residents have children, it is possible Canyon will have schools constructed in the area.

The board also reviewed a new teacher evaluation form and discussed briefly a suggestion by Richard Pruett that the evaluation also come from students.

No action was taken on the proposal.

Faculty. . .

would be somewhat less than full power.

Article two outlines the five components which would administer and govern the university: the board of regents, the president and administrative officers, the general faculty assembly — consisting of all full-time faculty members — the faculty senate, to be elected by the faculty assembly and the student senate.

"The general faculty assembly is charged with the fundamental responsibility for the formulation, revision and continuous review of educational policy, which may be delegated in part to the Faculty Senate," the constitution says. "Neither the board of regents nor the administration shall make alterations in the educational policy of the university without a prior and full review by the general faculty assembly or its delegate, the faculty senate."

The faculty senate will have primary jurisdiction over educational matters of the university as a whole and will not extend over internal affairs of any college or school or any department. That jurisdiction is over standards of admission, requirements for granting of degrees, curricular standards, instructional standards, promotion of faculty, tenure, appointment and dismissal of faculty members.

Joint faculty senate-administration jurisdiction will extend over selection and removal of a president and principal academic officers of the institution, expenditures of funds allocated to instruction, major issues affecting current or projected budget decisions and short and long range master planning for the university development.

As proposed, the faculty senate would contain 39 members, including 9 students and would be chaired by the university president or his designate. The president would also chair the general faculty assembly, but without vote.

Currently, WTSU has a faculty council with representation selected from each major university division.

Eagles. . .

Canyon Coach Ron Mills has room for optimism in the Friday night game against Dumas, more reason than he's had almost since the season opened.

First, Dumas is not a AAAA team, one of those population giants which have stomped the Eagles in several cases and in other cases eked out a narrow victory or a tie.

Second, Canyon will have almost all its starters healthy and in the lineup for Friday night, a fact which has not been true through at least the last three games.

Third, the Demons are playing the game in Canyon. A game in Dumas even against a poor Dumas team is often tantamount to an extra two touchdowns on their game.

Fourth, the Demons have shown that they are at best a sporadic team.

And, Mills can only hope that a plague of bad breaks will get mixed up on the turnpike and miss Kimbrough Stadium Friday night.

Breaks — all bad — spelled defeat for the Eagles last weekend against Levelland's Lobos near Lubbock.

It was ill-timed fumbles, interceptions and penalties which put an unhappy tint to a game which saw the Eagles perform well on the defensive, according to Mills.

"I think we played well defen-

Rotary District Gov. Marshall Formby of Plainview will make his annual visit to the Canyon Rotary Club Monday and Tuesday. Formby will be guest at a salad supper Monday night and will be guest speaker at the regular Tuesday noon Rotary session. He is expected to discuss the program for the 47 Rotary clubs in his district for the coming year. A former Dickens County judge and state senator, Formby is a practicing attorney in Plainview. Mitchell Jones is president of the local club.

police chief's investigation of the assault case.

Stewart said to his knowledge the warrants filed Wednesday numbered more than any filed before in the city.

All are felony warrants alleging sale of narcotics.

While Randall County residents have been involved in drug raids before, no large number of cases have been made in Canyon itself due to the work of an undercover agent.

King also testified during the morning trial session that he was unemployed and passing through Canyon at the time he was hired by the Canyon police.

On cross-examination by Defense Attorney Jim Brown he testified that he had undertaken several personal investigations without pay in the Galveston area before coming north.

sively except for two plays," he said. "We played well on offense except for interceptions and penalties and fumbles."

And, if those are the kinds of things which have made up Eagle losses this season, Mills is at a loss to come up with a plan to control the capricious breaks of the game.

Mills feels the Levelland game proved the Eagles have a sustaining morale, a morale which should prove strong during the remainder of district play and particularly Friday night. It also proved, he feels, that they have a good deal of composure when faced with breaks that just didn't go their way.

Mills, while he feels Dumas may not have been particularly consistent during the early part of the season, sees the Demons this week as a good-all-around ball club, one with a well-balanced passing and running attack.

Dumas, too, has played its share of AAAA schools this fall and has proved its team victorious in a couple of outings against teams the Eagles have also played and lost to.

"They have the best quarterback we'll face this year," Mills said. "They're quick, not real large, but very quick."

The Eagle defensive line will also be facing another outstanding back, a break-away runner, and an excellent pass receiver.

"I think it should be a fairly even game," Mills said.

Mills noted that his full complement of starting running backs should be playing Friday night and that other than severely injured Andy Grimes and Wayne Robinson, all players should be healthy.

"The game Friday fired them up," he said. "The morale is better than it has been all year. I hope they continue to play Friday night like they played the last quarter against Levelland."

Trial. . .

Brown placed on the stand Cloe Godfrey of Amarillo, who brought out the first of the conflicting testimony.

Mrs. Godfrey, who said she keeps a record of her activities, said Morrison came to her house in Amarillo about 9:15 a.m. June 14 to continue a wallpaper job.

She testified she left home to play tennis and arrived back at her home about 12:10 p.m. When she arrived, she said, she found Morrison working on her wallpaper.

More than a half dozen other witnesses testified as to the whereabouts of Morrison during various times of the day on June 14.

The trial took up again Wednesday morning and the prosecution called Ron King, who revealed himself as an undercover police officer with the Canyon Police Department. King testified that he saw Morrison in the laundromat during the noon hour on June 14.

Plans. . .

tion of spending that much on the project. He noted that costs to be paid out of federal revenue sharing money and any other money needed will be spread over a five-to-seven year period.

Commissioner Jim Christopher also noted that the construction project is not locked in concrete and is susceptible to change.

But, they all noted that construction costs are rising rapidly.

In fact, Watson noted in his cost projection that 1 per cent could be added to the total construction cost for each month after October.

Firm Representative Jay Banister noted that as much as 9 to 12 per cent more could be added between the time the go-ahead is given on the plans and the job is contracted.

Nixon. . .

When viewed from that perspective, Shelly said he believes that if President Nixon's record is taken as a whole a case can be made for impeachment.

He also pointed to recent polls which show the American President's popularity has dropped to a new low and that those favoring impeachment outnumber those who do not favor impeachment.

Matthis agreed, pointing to the instability which has reigned during the Nixon administration itself, an administration which has seen several Supreme Court appointees rejected, an attorney general found guilty of a felony offense, another attorney general who has resigned, and the breach of a word with Congress over the workings of Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox.

In addition, Shelly questioned the President's record in foreign affairs. Noting that 46,000 men have died in Southeast Asia since the U.S. withdrew under the guise of an "honorable peace," Shelly said the supposed detentes with Russia and China are also only tenuous threads particularly in light of recent uprisings in the Middle East.

But, neither Matthis nor Shelly were sure that impeachment proceedings might not be brought on obstruction of justice in connection with the President's handling of the Watergate affair.

They pointed out that the jury is still out on the basic questions of Watergate — did the President know about the Watergate break-in, and if so, did he participate in its cover-up?

Matthis denied that impeachment of the President would grind the government to a halt, saying that the President's own inability to work with subordinates has virtually ground the government to a halt.

Jackson said he believes the President in his establishment and then disestablishment of Cox's office, his taking of the tapes issue to the courts, is buying time, but is rapidly painting himself in an inescapable corner.

Again, the three professors eyed the impact the current fight has on the public trust in politicians in general.

Shelly contended that on the positive side, the weekend's happenings have shown that there are still men in government who can be trusted — primarily Senator Stennis and Elliott Richardson.

Happy CowBelles Went To State Convention

By MARY NEAL HENRY
HAPPY COWBELLES
HAD nine CowBelles and two husbands, Vera and Bill Eubanks and Willie and John Butler, Othella McGehee, Vivian Woods, LaNelle Todd, Bernice Hamblen, Judy Thompson, Linda McDonald, and Mary Neal Henry, attending the State Convention in Abilene. The Live Oak CowBelles were our hostesses. Abilene is in the process of organizing a local CowBelle organization.

WE REGISTERED, ATE lunch and attended the executive meeting while others attended the historians meeting. The Happy CowBelle scrapbook was taken and displayed. This has been compiled by Nora Taylor and is an outstanding book.

A RECEPTION WAS held from 7 until 9 on the first evening. We met and visited with several ladies from over the state. Punch, snacks, chips and dips and treats of all kinds were served.

THURSDAY MORNING WE were up early for the continental breakfast and business meeting. The first main order of business was the adoption of amendments to the by-laws. These were presented by Othella McGehee, a Happy CowBelle and chairman of the by-laws committee. Later in the morning, these officers were elected to serve as the 1974 state CowBelle officers: president, Mrs. Tom Henry of Happy, representing Tulsa; first vice president, Mrs. Robert Allen of Tulsa; second vice president, Mrs. Melton McGehee of Wayside; representing Happy CowBelles; third vice president, Mrs. Jewell Ament of Tulsa; representing Terra Cotta CowBelles; recording secretary, Mrs. Byron Jones of Bovina, representing Riata CowBelles; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J.Q. Edwards of Christoval, representing Live Oaks CowBelles; and treasurer, Mrs. George Burnett of Abilene, representing Caprock CowBelles.

MRS. JOHN BUTLER has served this year as State Publicity Chairman and will remain in that position. Willie and John took us to the television and radio station in Abilene and to the newspaper and we found out did reach the destination in his jovial manner and usual good mood. We do thank you, too, John.

A BANQUET OF roast beef was served at the noon hour. Mr. Stanley Franks, editor of the San Angelo Livestock Weekly, was the after-dinner speaker.

AT THE CLOSE of the business session, Mrs. Jack Carothers, Texas CowBelles charter president, presented Mrs. Tom Henry (myself) a gold CowBelle pin. The official pin of Texas is a white gold outline of Texas with a CowBelle in the center complete with a face and a Pearl on the cow's nose. The Texas President pin is gold and has a turquoise inset instead of pearl. Betty also later presented me the cowbell that the American National CowBelles presented Texas when they organized. It is engraved "Texas CowBelles" and "1972." (I am so glad that it is engraved or Ken would probably have it on his bull rope).

I LOOK FORWARD to the coming year.

LINDA McDONALD WON a door prize, a pair of pretty house shoes, Willie Butler won gift certificates to an Abilene Cafeteria, and Mary Neal Henry won a vegamatic. At least 25 door prizes were awarded.

MRS. JEWELL (ELLEN) Ament of Tulsa, who is the third vice president of Texas CowBelles for 1974, was selected as the "Most Valuable CowBelle of 1973" by a committee of men (not associated with CowBelles). Ellen was recognized at Abilene at the State Convention and awarded a charm bracelet with a gold emblem of Texas bearing a blue sapphire and engraved "Outstanding CowBelle 1973." Congratulations, Ellen!

I MUST CORRECT one statement in the Sunday News. I have worked in every capacity in the local Rainbow Girls organization, but I have never been Grand Visitor. The Grand Visitor is an adult who has charge of nine assemblies and Cortez Dowlen has served as Grand Visitor in our area for many, many years. She has done a wonderful job and all the girls love her. Evelyn Dowd is presently serving as Happy's Mother Advisor.

VICKI TODD CELEBRATED her eighth birthday on Saturday afternoon. Angiqua Henry, Kay Lynn Stubblefield, Molly Parker, Trisha Hargrave, Cindy Long, Patti Peterson, and Melissa Null helped Vicki celebrate. The birthday cake was a heart with pink roses on it.

WAYSIDE HOMECOMING LAST Sunday afternoon was well attended. President Henry Hamblen welcomed the group and Clifford Stevens pronounced the invocation. Barry Stevens led the group in singing

"The More We Get Together."

RUTH HINDERS ANNOUNCED the program would begin with the Parker Sisters doing a number. Brenda and Debbie sang "If You Were Us and We Were You," accompanied by Cathy Parker on the piano.

"GOLDEN MEMORIES"

WERE first on the program and Mrs. Clara and Mr. Curtis McGehee were the first honored. They will have been married for 63 years this Friday, Oct. 26, 1973 (1910-1973). A granddaughter, Melinda Watson, reminisced for her grandparents. Then all five grandchildren sang "There's a Dixie Boy Who is Longing for a Yankee Doodle Girl." The McGehees had four children, two now living, Aileen Watson and Jack McGehee. They also have four grandchildren and five great grandchildren. Thirty-eight relatives were present on Sunday afternoon.

JOE AND OLA Rogers, married 54 years on this Friday, Oct. 26, 1973 (1919 to 1973). Joe and Ola's two children, five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren added up to 47 relatives present on Sunday afternoon. The Wayside chorus sang "When You Were A Tulip," for Joe and Ola.

ELLA AND WIATT Heisler celebrated their 52nd anniversary on Sept. 9 (1921 to 1973). They have one son and two grandchildren. Ruth Hinders read a poem that had been written about the Heislers by their niece, Beth McGee. The prose and poetry was entitled "Childhood Memories."

AGNES AND BILL Stockett celebrated their 51st anniversary on Sept. 20, 1973 (1922 to 1973). There were 41 of their relatives to help recognize Agnes and Bill. Barry Stevens sang for them, "How Great Thou Art."

HENRY HAMBLEN PRESENTED each of these couples a gift which was a book to help them remember the occasion.

OTHER FORMER RESIDENTS present who could be celebrating anniversaries also were Nora and Charles Helms of Tulsa. They have been married for 59 years. Roy and Dot Dodson have been married 51 years. Nellie and Hobbie Burrow, members of the Hamblen family, celebrated their 50th year in Canyon just this last year.

LEMAN and RUTH Fisher celebrate their 49th year of marriage this week.

BOB GRISBY, ALENE Watson, Aliene Adams, Cora Bell, Bud Roberts and Lucille Roberts, and Othella McGehee were former Wayside teachers who were present for the Homecoming on Sunday.

RAE MAUDE WALTERS

began the "I remember when..." part of the program. Rae reminisced about the wonderful dinners that had been Wayside affairs, the Christmas trees on Christmas Eve in the church, Memorial Day observances, and school at Wayside. They used to travel in a horse and buggy and how they kept warm in the winter and some of the things they did to those poor horses. Rae even remembered when Mrs. Clara and Mr. Curtis got married. They made the punch in a wash tub and it had bananas floating in it. Rae was just a kid and she was fascinated by those banana slices floating in the punch (she says now days the Health Department won't even let you put ice in one of those tubs). One of their male school mates stuck his knife through their basketball on the playground one day when he became angry. The girls made taffy candy and sold it to make another $2.50 for another basketball. Maude had the old iron skillet and the big platter they used to make the candy. She even had the recipe. Maude also displayed a pink and white bag that a Sunday school teacher had made for her one Christmas.

ROBERT ADAMS REMEMBERED the literary exercises and even THE WAYSIDE STAR, Wayside's newspaper. He read some of the old editions. Danny Adams was editor of the newspaper.

RUTH HINDERS HAD some 1915 and 1916 Sunday School records and read some of the class rolls.

HENRY HAMBLEN TOLD about the old time picnics for Melton McGehee. Bob Grisby and Lois Gillham agreed that the picnics began in 1923. The last year for the Old Settlers Reunion was 1942. In 1937 they cooked 42 beehives and had 5000 people in Wayside that day. This was the largest crowd ever. Alfred and Henry Hamblen cooked the beef.

THEY HAD BASEBALL games and later rodeos. Everyone parked their cars in a circle and they snubbed the horses and mules and just mounted them out in the center. Henry Hamblen rode a calf one time and he didn't know how to get off — so he just kept riding. They later roped calves. Some of these rodeos took place in some country arenas later built. Leo Uselding took them airplane riding one year.

THEN SOMEBODY BROUGHT up that they probably hadn't told the funniest things. And someone else said those were the things that probably wouldn't do to tell. It was a most enjoyable afternoon.

DORIS GILLHAM REMEMBERED the singing. Wayside used to have lots of old time singings. What was even more interesting were the things that she told happened on the way to and coming home from the singings. Doris insisted that she couldn't sing, but her daddy kept insisting that it was the piano. (At least parents' opinions haven't changed).

LUCY AND DAYLE Culwell told about the pie suppers. They wondered what was the most ever paid for a box in Wayside; $60 and $25 were both mentioned. McCurry used to be the auctioneer. They also had some quilt squares that had been made for a friendship quilt. You could remember the names and sometimes even the scraps of material. Then another good time at Wayside used to be choosing the prettiest girl and the ugliest man. They revived this practice for an afternoon but they limited the contestants to the four couples married more than 50 years. Mrs. Clara McGehee won the prettiest girl and received a corsage. Joe Rogers won the ugliest man and a pair of glasses with a mask attached. (I couldn't help but notice that one granddaughter wouldn't vote for her granddaddy for the ugliest man. She had not lived in that generation of fun).

BEFORE THE AFTERNOON program ended, someone remembered that they even had car races one year at Wayside.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED for two years. Next year's Homecoming officers will remain: president, Henry Hamblen; vice president, J.J. Lane; secretary-treasurer, Rae Walters; and program chairman, Ruth Hinders.

RUTH HINDERS ASKED that next year, everyone bring something that you want to show and to share with everyone else. Ruth read the poem, "My Get Up and Go Has Got Up and Went."

THE PARKER SISTERS sang a farewell song and it was followed by everyone singing "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

OCTOBER 20, 1974 is the date set for next year's Homecoming at Wayside.

JEANETTA AND SONNY McNeill have been to Lake Bronson, Minn., to visit Dave and Tra McNeill and their Mike and Mark.

PHIL AND MEL Bradley of Gruver were in Happy on Monday visiting Bert and Annie Lemmons. They had been to Seminole to visit John Lemmons family.

ROYCE AND BILL Vernon are in Lansing, Mich., visiting Bill Vernon who is working on his Ph.D. there.

JOY AND BOB Stephenson of Lubbock were in Wayside on Sunday. ODELL JAMES WAS at the Wayside Homecoming on Sunday.

BROTHER PAUL HELL'S mother from near Farmington, N.M. was visiting in Happy and at church on Sunday morning. A nephew was also with her — sorry I didn't get his name.

VINT WAS IN church with his grandparents, Lonas and Moon Wright.

AN ALL CHURCH fellowship has been planned for this Sunday evening following services at the First Baptist Church. I think they are having homemade ice cream and cake.

4-H WILL PARTICIPATE in the Halloween Carnival sponsored by the Adult Leaders Association at the Swisher County Bull Barn on Halloween night. Happy 4-H will sponsor the dart throw.

HAPPY JAYCEES AND Jaycee-Ettes are sponsoring a Halloween Carnival for their children. They have done this for several years now.

THE TASTING TEA is scheduled for Nov. 16 from 3 to 5 p.m. in the home of Mrs. John Butler and the Bake Sale will be in the home of Mrs. A.J. McCarley. This includes a home tour of each of these beautiful homes. Cookbooks will be given to all those buying baked goods at the bake sale. Door prizes will be given. Anyone buying a ticket will be eligible for these door prizes.

SANDY RAILSBACK HAS pledged the Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority on the WTSU campus and I noticed is the Sargeant-at-Arms of that pledge group.

LEONA COILE WAS honored with a salad luncheon and surprise birthday party recently. The arrangements all took place at her home while Marilyn had her mother in the beauty shop. Those Arney gals are ones that do have fun!

JANE THORNTON DOES a really fine job reporting that Arney news.

YOU ALL REMEMBER to "Eat more Beef." See ya! Mary Neal

Maurine Bonds, left, and Tammie Sallee, Canyon High School band twirlers, won First Division medals at a University Interscholastic League contest in solo twirling. A First Division rating stands for "superior performance."

Stopping Traffic Is Her Line

Like the mailman, Mrs. Ronnie Brock, school crossing guard at 23rd St. and Rex Reeves School, is there in rain, sleet, and snow, helping children safely cross the dangerous intersection.

The trucks rumbling down the highway don't bother Mrs. Brock, because "I don't step out there until I'm sure they are going to stop. You have to know what you're doing and what to look out for."

After all the vehicles are stopped, she walks out into the crosswalk, whistle in her teeth, and holds her arms out as a signal for all cars to hold their stop. Then, after surveying the situation, and not until it is safe, does she motion the children to cross.

When asked if the motorists give her any trouble, she remarked, "The only time I ever bother them is when I have to let them sit through a light. I don't have any choice. They can't see the child that is on the run a short way back. Sometimes the child stops, but I can't take a chance that he won't."

Mrs. Brock is qualified to give a warning ticket, but never has, because, "I can't chase a speeding car on foot. When they are speeding, they are usually breaking 30." Occasionally, when she feels that a driver might not stop, she'll give them a blast on the whistle.

One other point Mrs. Brock made was this, "Even though right turn on red is legal, if I'm out in the street with my hands up, they can't turn. Some of them don't understand why they can't go ahead and turn after the children have crossed. Again, they can't see the child on the run."

Mrs. Brock got her job by simply applying for it when she heard there was an opening. "There were men that applied for the position, but Chief Stewart liked the woman image at the crossing. That's why I always wear a skirt, even in the cold. He felt that a woman with children of her own would be more aware."

"I enjoy my work. Getting out in the weather and fresh air is good for you. Even for a short time in the snow. I find I have less colds because of the exposure," said Mrs. Brock.

Mrs. Brock has found that she gets some unusual reactions to her uniform. "Sometimes I have to go places and don't have time to change my uniform. I get some funny reactions." Much to her concern, she has overheard mothers telling their children to behave or the police lady will take them away. "I let the children know that I am not out there to bully them, just help them. Parents shouldn't teach their children to fear police officers, they should tell them that they are their friends and want to help them."

A funny incident happened when Mrs. Brock had to keep a doctor's appointment while wearing her uniform. "When the doctor opened the door, he walked in, looked at my uniform and backed out. Then he stuck his head back in and said 'I'll come back in if you don't have a gun.' He was just kidding around, but I do not carry a gun."

Sometimes, Mrs. Brock has to get on to a child for something, but it's for their own safety. The next day, I act like nothing happened. Once, after reprimanding a little girl for screaming while in the crosswalk, the child and her sisters brought Mrs. Brock a Christmas gift the next day. "I wasn't expecting it and after getting on to her the day before, I felt pretty bad. The little girl had forgotten all about it." Once again, Mrs. Brock stressed that the disciplinary actions are "for their own safety."

At the present, Mrs. Brock is not a full fledged policeman, but hopes to be certified in the future.

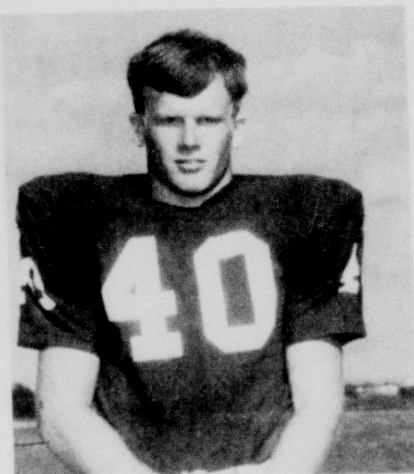

The Brocks have two children, Jackie Kay, age 6 and a first grader, and Dale Wayne, age 3. Her husband, Ronnie, is a native of Canyon, a draftsman at Bell Helicopter and a master plumber.

Parents with children in school might want to give a friendly wave to the lady who makes sure their children get to school safely every day, whatever the weather.

Western Art Show Now On Display

Works of two western artists relatively new to the field of bronze sculpture are now on display through Nov. 2 at West Texas State University.

The exhibition in the Formal Lounge of the Fine Arts Building is being sponsored by the WTSU art department. Viewing hours are from 2-4 p.m. weekdays.

Artists Ray Reynolds and Bob Hunnicutt, both residents of the Texas Panhandle, will show sculptures depicting western art. Reynolds, 42, of Amarillo says he has been sketching cowboys, horses and animal wildlife as long as he can remember.

He began doing bronze sculpture seriously last year and cast his first pieces in December. Currently he is showing eight different pieces cast at the Shidoni foundry in Tesuque, N.M.

The sculptor also does illustrations using pen and ink or water color. He has illustrated articles in several Panhandle newspapers and has had a one-man show of pen and ink drawings at WTSU.

Hunnicutt began his western background at the age of 12 when he was riding colts and working as an extra hand on ranches.

Since then he has ridden in and judged many rodeos. He became interested in sculptures, bronze and metal work last year. After viewing western art, Hunnicutt began molding wax in forms of animals and people of the Plains.

Hunnicutt has established his own foundry at Channing where he and his family now reside. Hunnicutt is a graduate of West Texas State University.

Camp Fire Girls Candy Sale On The Way November 2

By TOOTIE BYBEE

WELL, GEE WHIZ and how do you do this week? Our little Oasis is just buzzing with lots of activity. Seems every one has a project going or is just going! Can you believe we have gone this far into October without a good ole freeze? Wish Spring could break without any late freezes. Several people have asked me what I think about the current political scene and that is exactly what I do, think about it!

Seems our two parties may be a little kin to the Arabs and Israelites, they like to throw a few missiles at each other. Kinda makes one sick at heart.

HAVE SO MANY things to tell you don't know where to start. So will start with my favorite. The Annual Camp Fire Girl Candy Sale will start Nov. 2 and go to Nov. 24. There will be about 10 groups of Camp Fire Girls involved in the Canyon area. We would be so very appreciative of your support. The Candy will be from King Candy again and includes Queen Bees, Assorted Chocolates, Royal Mints and a new item, Peanut Crunch. Each individual group will receive 5 cents a box for their own treasury. The Council is trying to sell 35,000 to 36,000 this year to carry out some projects. So, please help us go over the top. There will be prizes given for the various amounts sold by the girls. Included are wrist watches, clock radios, $25 savings bonds, ten speed bicycles, and full camperships to Day Camp and Resident Camp in New Mexico. So, the little girls in red, white and blue will be knocking on your door soon, please say YES. Also, a note to the Leaders in the Canyon area. Remember you cannot participate in the candy sale unless your group is registered! Deadline is Oct. 30.

JOANN AND BROOKS Ross traveled to Austin this past weekend to visit Joann's mom who has been ill. Said she couldn't get anything much done 'cause her mom kept getting up to help her, help her. Said they were too packed in the car to bring back the 100 or so pounds of fish they caught this summer when they went deep sea diving. So, guess it will stay in grand-mother's freezer til the next visit. So, all you people who are waiting on that fish fry, remember that.

ALSO, WOULD LIKE to mention to those who wanted one of the band Cook Books. Russell Ross has access to as many as you want so he is the one to call, at 622-1800 and if he doesn't have it in hand he can get you one.

HAVE YOU NOTICED the new pickup with the nice shiny camper on the back lately? That is Bob Morgan's and he is getting ready to take off for Colorado to go (of all things) deer hunting. Heard there is one little boy singing the blues cause he can't go with daddy, that is what happens when you get old enough for school. Congratulations on the new pickup rig, but I won't wish you luck in killing a deer because it hurts deep down inside to think of it. But do have fun.

MRS. BROOKS WANTED me to tell you she has found a little doggie. And it is very sad and wants to go home or have a home. It is a little brown and white Basset and she found it around the Junior High about a week ago, hungry and forlorn. If it is yours please call her at 622-1559 and claim it.

SEEMS TO ME there is a little building project going on across the street from us in the Buckles back yard. Heard it was to be a nice little green house for Mrs. Alley and nice shop for Mr. Buckles and that sounds very good. Love to have a little green house all my own.

THE THURSDAY CLUB met at Joyce Minor's this week and we had a new friend join us. Vickie Hitchins who lives on the corner of Mescalero Trail, where Marjorie Clements lived before. Was so very great to have her and hope she will come back. We meet here at my house this Thursday so see you then. We missed Michael Ann Whitehead.

WTSU Educators Speak In El Paso

Dr. Wilma Jo Bush, associate professor of education, and Dr. Kenneth Waugh, director of the Testing and Counseling Center, at West Texas State University addressed the Texas Association for Children with Learning Disabilities convention at El Paso last weekend.

The Two R's - Remediation and Relationship - was their topic of discussion.

Techniques to aid children with learning disabilities were presented, along with a discussion of the relationship that should exist between the teacher and child in order to keep the child motivated, Dr. Bush says.

The statewide meeting involved both parents and teachers.

Had a party? Or giving one? Tell The Canyon News about it. Telephone 655-7121, or stop by the News office on the south side of the square.

but hope that little Rosemary is feeling a lot better, also, Deann Cooper and hope she is better.

THE MESCALERO PARK Camp Fire Girls are having a (would you believe) "SPOOK HOUSE" for the community in the Whitehead's garage. It will cost you 10 cents and the money will go for some of our projects this year and we hope to cover the cost of the "SPOOK HOUSE."

There will also be a fun house for the little kiddies who are afraid of the dark and of spooks. It will also be 10 cents. It will be Tuesday night the 30th from 7:30 to 9:00. So, please come on by and go through our house of ghoulies. Would like to tell you the cast of characters but would give it away, so you'll have to come to find out.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY TO David Finke on the 16th of October and to his dad, Fred on the 17th. It was awful close but David needed to have waited one more day to be on his dad's birthday.

SPEAKING OF FINKE'S (he-he) Darlene was over Monday and brought a sampling of all the lovely gift wrap the band parents are selling. Pretty foil wrapping paper in seven colors, two are prints and the others solids. Decorative ribbon and plain. The plain has 30 yards and the decorative 80 feet, either for only a $1.00. So with Christmas on the way this is a good way to stock up at a savings and help the Canyon School Bands at the same time. There is also, a Cawm maker and it really works. Cause Darlene let me make myself a bow to test it out, if I can do it anyone can. It is $1.25 and that includes directions and 24 bow maker pins. The ribbon comes in every color of the rainbow and some of it lacy and fancy. Makes me want to buy a gift just to get to use it. The wrapping paper is $1.00 a roll.

SO, LET'S SEND these kids to Anaheim in a big way. Different distribution points in the different neighborhoods are: Virginia Maxwell 352-7093, 8122 S. Western, Sherrie Cates (hello Sherrie) on Goodnight Trail 355-2080, Betty Johnson on McCormick Road 622-0041, Pat Seth on Euclid Street 355-6929, Willetta Johnson, 488-3074 in Sunday Canyon, and Darlene Finke South of Mack Avenue, 352-2971. I will have a sampling for purchase Thursday if you are interested, just drop by or give me a call at 622-1471. This is a band parent project but a few of the kiddoes may help if they wish.

THE EVAN'S SPENT the day Saturday in Lubbock visiting with LeRoy's parents. His step-dad has been ill and now is doing a lot better.

THE JONES WERE out for a very short visit Sunday. They were at the house and were there for such a short time didn't get to see them but others did. We always miss good friends and neighbors when they move away. Hope they are really settling in at Fritch.

BARBARA EVANS AND I, along with a few other sponsors accompanied part of the Friendship Baptist Church Choir to see the Jeremiah People at the First Baptist Church fellowship Sunday night. Boy, was it ever lively. Wall to wall people and just a great time together. Those youngsters really put on a singing program.

If you haven't gotten to see them you missed a great blessing in your life. We all enjoyed it so much. Also, the Lamont Baptist Chapel will be starting a bus ministry around the first or second Sunday in November. Don't have the bus route schedule as yet but will let you know about it as soon as we know.

DON'T KNOW IF I'll get hit on the head or not for this one. The First Pentecostal Holiness Church will have a Burrito Supper Nov. 2 from 5:30 til 8:00 at 900 S. Nelson in Amarillo. There will be in addition to the burritos, cole slaw, beans, tea or coffee. The tickets are $1.00 for children and $1.50 for adults. Marge Morgan has tickets and so does Deann Cooper. Haven't figured out how these two lovely ladies and P.T.A. members will be two places at once that night. As this is the same night as the Chili supper at Gene Howe. But... good luck with the ticket sales. It is for a very good cause.

A COUPLE MORE things: The Band parents are sponsoring their annual Spook House located at Highway 87 and 8th Avenue in Canyon. Mrs. Gary Garner and Mrs. Roy Cates are co-chairmen for this event. The 26, 27, 29, 30 and 31, from 7:30 til 9:00. If it is anything like last year's watch out! The proceeds of course, to go to the bands. Tickets are 50 cents. This band that all these nice people work so hard for recently took a number 1 rating in marching at the recent contest at Kimbrough Memorial Stadium. This was the Senior Band.

SATURDAY AND SUNDAY were such pretty Indian

Summer Days. Saw so many of you out busy in your yards. The Robinsons were rototilling and cleaning up, the Fow's were setting out lots of plants around their new home, the Buckles were having cement poured and work begun on their green house and shop. The Crews were watering their lovely yard and a bunch of little sparrows were enjoying a bath in the sprinkler. Mrs. Woods was busy picking the remains of a very successful garden. Water sprinklers, lawn mowers and the sound of happy voices all mingled together like the last happy good-bye to a lovely and happy summer.

STILL HAVE FOUR precious, playful, sweet, darling (please take one) kittens left. May even let you have a little older, more mature, mother cat if this keeps up! See you next time.

Chills And Thrills Start Fri. At The Haunted House

The Horrible Hood, expecting to see Dracula, gets a surprise when she opens his coffin to find someone else inside. See them at the Haunted House.

They'll all be there starting Friday night at 7:30, your favorite monsters in real life to chill and thrill you with their presence in the Haunted House at 23rd St. and 8th Ave.

Visit the haunted living room and watch the monsters dine on... well... who knows???

Guess who the mad butcher is grilling for dinner. See his red refrigerator with all its "contents" and his weird kitchen.

Enter the surprise room for a real fun shock. If one makes it, the mad scientist awaits to show his laboratory and introduce his "creations."

Dracula has moved into a cave this year and he is waiting to greet his guests with a ghoulish "Good Evening" from his coffin. The monster's favorite interior decorator has created a masterpiece of terror with all kinds of "Things" hanging around to haunt the cave.

A very famous monster lives in the cemetery within the haunted house. Hairy though he is, his antics are guaranteed to set a person's hair on end and send them screaming. Who knows what lurks behind around and under? The tombstones that glow in the cemetery.

Oh yes, the Mummy will be there too. He even brought his case so his wrappings wouldn't get messed.

The Horrible Hood will be skulking around, but it's up to those on the tour to find her. Who has the nerve to look?

What could be more fun than a monster in every room complete with all the sound effects that monsters make? There may even be a few sounds that have never been heard.

After completing the tour of the Haunted House, there will be a concession stand for the shaky to revive themselves. The items available on sale will be vampire blood, ghost corn, bat cookies, ghoulish goodies, and Dracula apples. Other things available for purchase to make Halloween complete will be monster footprints, eye balls from the mad scientist's lab of leftovers, and all kinds of glow in the dark scary things. They might even sell a few of their spooky critters that are lurking about.

All this spine tingling, bone chilling fun is provided by the Canyon Band Parents for the paltry sum of 50 cents a ticket. Tickets are available from band members, band parents, and at the door. Mrs. Gary Garner, head spookster, said "This is the best Haunted House we have ever had. It's not just for kids either, adults and college students are welcome and we urge them come tour the house. Parents, this is good old fashioned, safe fun, so if you are too scared, send the kids."

Proceeds from the Haunted House will go to finance the Canyon High School Band's trip to Anaheim, Calif. for the National Music Educator's Conference. The band was selected by a tape audition from bands all over the country.

For an evening of good safe fun, visit the Haunted House and help the Canyon Band. Get in the spirit of Halloween.

These captivating creatures are some of the eerie creations the mad scientist has whipped up for the Haunted House.

Halloween Treat Recipes For Little Or Big Spooks

By CAROL YOUNG

Halloween is oft characterized and identified with by the presence of spooks and goblins. Also, another part of Halloween is the treat that wards off the trick.

For those who want to give a special treat, are planning their own home Halloween party, or were elected to provide goodies for a school party, here are some recipes for treats that will be accepted by young and old alike.

Becky Hall, Randall County Extension Agent has provided the following recipes for popcorn balls and caramel apples.

Popcorn Balls

1 cup sugar
1/3 cup white corn syrup
1/3 cup water
1/4 cup butter
4 tps. salt
4 tsp. vanilla
3 qts. unseasoned popcorn.

Put sugar, corn syrup, water, butter and salt in saucepan and cook, stirring until the sugar is dissolved. Continue cooking without stirring until syrup forms a brittle ball in cold water. Add vanilla and stir only enough to mix it through the syrup. Place the popped corn in a bowl large enough for mixing. Pour the cooked syrup slowly over the popped corn and mix well. Wet hands slightly and shape corn into balls, using only enough pressure to make the balls stick together. Makes 12 medium sized balls.

Caramel Apples

Can be made with caramels bought at the store or with the following:

Butterscotch Caramels
3 cups sugar
1 cup butter
1 cup heavy cream
1 cup light cream
1/4 cups white Karo syrup

1 tsp. vanilla
Cook first five ingredients to soft ball stage (240°). Add vanilla. Pour in well greased pan after adding vanilla. When cool cut into squares and roll in wax paper for homemade candy treats.

For Caramel Apples, wash and dry apples, insert a stick into stem end of each. Dip into hot caramel sauce (before pouring in pan to cool). Turn until well coated. Scrape off sauce from bottom of apples. Place on greased wax paper, chill until firm. Keep in cool place.

If using pre-made caramels, melt down in double boiler. Follow above instructions.

For the nutrition minded, this recipe for pumpkin bread was found in the cookbook compiled by the Canyon High School Band Parents Association.

Pumpkin Bread

4 c. flour
3 c. sugar
1 1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. nutmeg
1 tsp. allspice
1/2 tsp. ground cloves
1 c. vegetable oil
1 (1 lb.) can pumpkin
2/3 c. cold water
4 eggs

Sift together dry ingredients into large bowl; add oil, pumpkin, and cold water. Blend well. Add eggs, 1 at a time, beating well after each addition. Pour batter into three well greased and floured loaf pans. Bake for 1 hour at 350°.

Pumpkin bread sliced or cut into shapes for the holiday and filled with a sandwich filling would make a party food that is fun, but nutritious. Some ideas for a sandwich filling that might interest children to be used with the pumpkin bread follow.

Cream cheese with orange marmalade, cranberry jelly or crushed pineapple

Softened cream cheese with chopped stuffed green olives or finely chopped candied ginger

Cream cheese with grated carrots and raisins (if you can get raisins, they really are scarce now)

The old favorite, peanut butter and jelly

Pimento cheese

Tuna salad or whatever comes to mind that the kids like

Another idea that is not too original is the cupcake with orange, green or white icing decorated with any kind of Halloween ornament.

For the baker in the crowd with an artistic touch, the ideas for cakes with Halloween decorations are impossible to list and will have to be left to the creative.

Cookies are readily accepted by children and are relatively easy to prepare for a school party. Canned decorative icings, that are available at local grocery stores, come with nozzles for several different types of designs. Cookies cut in spooky shapes and decorated with the icing would be a fun thing to do.

Cookbooks are chock full of candy recipes and other treats to make the kiddoes smile. Brush the dust off the books and look up some good nutritious and safe treats to give the little goblins that come knocking at the door. They will love you and their parents will thank you. In case there is a budding culinary artist in the family, let them help. A child can easily shape popcorn balls and dip apples in caramel. Somehow, things just taste better if one has a part in the preparation.

Sausage Festival Plans Underway

By REBA RAE

HELLO, AGAIN, FROM Umbarger. Well, our sausage Festival is just two weeks from this coming Sunday. Preparations are well underway for this annual event. We are looking forward to serving a large crowd, so keep Sunday, Nov. 11, open and come eat with us.

THE RETREAT FOR the Catholic Youth Organization, which was to have been held Sunday, Oct. 28, has been changed to a later date, which will be announced, as soon as plans are complete.

THE PISTOLS AND Peticoats Halloween dance held last Sunday, was well attended, though not too many came in costumes. Winner for the best costume in the adult ladies division was Patricia Grabber, and Paul Ferguson was the first prize winner in the men's division. In the under 18 years group, first prize was won by Jackie Skarke. The door prizes went to Donna Grimes, of Canyon and Paul Ferguson. Judges for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Begert and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Wieck.

THERE WILL BE a Western Dance Saturday evening, Oct. 27, in St. Mary's parish hall, from 9:00 p.m. till 1:00 a.m. Music will be by Bob Wynn and admission will be $1.50. The dance will be sponsored by Project Joy.

IF YOU HAVE any aluminum beverage cans and you would like to give them to the Umbarger 4-H club during the month of October, please bring them to the Bernard Hartman residence, in plastic or paper bags. Do not crush or mash them, however if they are already crushed, Coors will accept them this time, so round up all those cans and give them to the 4-H club.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS to Mr. and Mrs. John Homfeld, on the arrival of their little son, James Stacey. He arrived at Nebbett Memorial Hospital Oct. 19. Mr. and Mrs. George Liekhus, of Umbarger, are the maternal grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Homfeld, of Adrian, are the paternal grandparents.

DWIGHT BRANDT, who is attending Texas A&M University, visited his parents, the Jack Brandts over the holiday weekend.

GET WELL WISHES to Joe Miller, who underwent surgery at High Plains Baptist Hospital last Monday, and David Smith, who had surgery last week at the same hospital.

DON'T FORGET to go by the Umbarger 4-H club Fish Pond, at the Halloween

Carnival next week and vote for Umbarger's own candidate for Halloween Queen, Brenda Batenhorst. Each vote will cost a penny, so let's all go and vote for Brenda.

GUESTS IN THE home of Frances Grotgut last Sunday were Mrs. Mary Skypala and Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Skypala, from Hereford. Mrs. George Brockman, Henry Skypala and Alice Koch, from Umbarger.

WE WISH A speedy recovery to Helen Koch, who is laid up with a bad knee. We can sympathize with her, as we were out of circulation last spring for five weeks with a bad knee.

GUESTS IN OUR home last Sunday were Lewie Jr. from Pampa, Mike and Margaret Browder, Don and Grace Rael and children and Mary Rael and Les Goodin, from Amarillo and Suzy Hicks and boys, from Umbarger.

IF YOU HAVE news for me, please call me at 499-2164.

Dr. Bates To Speak At Fort Worth Meet

Dr. Enid Bates, assistant professor of education at West Texas State University, will be a featured speaker at the District XI Texas State Teachers Association Conference in Fort Worth Nov. 2.

Dr. Bates, who will meet with the elementary English section of the conference, will present "Puppetry Lifts Literature," a slide presentation utilizing a variety of puppets to illustrate many types of children's literature.

A demonstration on the use of materials, methods and special techniques for the use of puppets and literature with elementary school children will be conducted by Dr. Bates.

Dr. Bates made a similar presentation for the social teachers workshop for elementary teachers in Lubbock last Saturday.

News Brief

Canyon High School students Don Stribling Jr. and Sheryl Sommer will be competing today in Dalhart for the respective titles of Mr. and Miss Future Homemakers of America for District 16 of the Texas Panhandle.

Each student will give a 3-minute presentation on the topic, "Caring Our Commitments To the Future."

Stribling is the son of the Rev. and Mrs. Baldwin Stribling.

Miss Sommer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sommer.

Mulligan Stew Program Five To Air Friday

"Count Down 4-3-2" is the title for the Friday program of the 4-H television series "Mulligan Stew."

Program No. 5 deals with the Mulligan Stew's pal Wilbur Doo-right and a camping trip he plans. The gang is unable to accompany Wilbur on this trip, so he goes off into the wilds alone. Wilbur is trapped by a big rainstorm and flood waters and does not have enough food to last him until he can get safely home.

The Mulligan Stew gang hears about the bad flood on the news report on the radio. They know that this is the area where Wilbur is camping. A message is sent to the Army and police to see if Wilbur can be rescued. The pilot flying the search plane can see Wilbur in the flood waters, but can't get to him for the rescue. Now it is up to the Mulligan Stews to put together a food package to be dropped to Wilbur that will last him for two weeks.

To get the information on the best kinds of food to drop him, they visit the space program headquarters. The food must be something that will not spoil, because Wilbur does not have a refrigerator, but it must be a balanced diet that will keep him in good health. The gang learns from the NASA food specialists that most of the things they can send to Wilbur are available right in their neighborhood grocery store.

The Mulligan Stews also learn how foods can be changed during processing to have more nutrients, not spoil and can take up less space. They also learn about where new kinds of food will be grown to feed the world's people.

After seeing this program, students will know about new kinds of food that are being made and how they are being made more nutritious. They will learn about new kinds of packages for foods like the space program uses and the food used in the space flights. New processes for storage and less spoilage, like dried soup in a package and powdered milk will be shown, and the students will learn about the nutrition in these new foods.

Canyon Capers Offer Square Dance Lessons

The Canyon Capers Square Dance Club danced Monday to the calling of Knox Day with Leroy Pitt and Lewis Thomas each calling a tip.

All couples are welcome.

Canyon Artist Featured In One-Man Show

Canyon artist Carl J. Smith will be featured in a one-man show to open Nov. 9 at the Sagebrush Galleries, located at 4320 S.W. 45th in Amarillo.

Smith will have 12 new paintings on display at the show which will be open from 7 to 10 p.m. in the gallery.

The exhibition will remain on display through Nov. 17.

Smith studied art at West Texas State University and taught art in the Portales, N.M., public schools.

Born and raised in West Texas, Smith is considered by many to be one of the foremost modern exponents of western art.

Last spring the membership committee of the Grand Central Galleries of New York selected Smith for membership and representation in their galleries.

Smith's favorite subject material is the early settlement period in the Southwest. His trademark is a hazy, diaphanous curtain that enshrouds all of his paintings and gives each a dream-like quality.

Mrs. Lois Rice, guest speaker from the Furniture Gallery, continues her discussion on decorating with accessories after the Canyon Dames meeting.

Decorating Speech Topic At Meeting

The Canyon Dames met for a salad luncheon at the Episcopal Student Center Tuesday in addition to a short business meeting.

Jean Magee, president, called the meeting to order and discussed plans for the Halloween Carnival booth sponsored by the club. Kim Hagley was announced as the Canyon Dames candidate for Halloween Queen.

After covering the business at hand, Mrs. Magee introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Lois Rice, from the Furniture Gallery.

The key topic of Mrs. Rice's talk was decorating with accessories. She told those present that any major decorating problems would best be handled on a personal basis. Mrs. Rice defined accessories as "anything you have other than large pieces of furniture, pictures, mirrors, pillows, anything that help make a house a home."

"The thing to do is not try to copy your neighbor. Let your personality show up in your home," was advice she gave the audience on decorating.

Styles of furniture and types of fabric play a big role in the types of accessories used. For instance, delicate ceramic figurines, silver, and crystal would be used with brocades and more formal fabrics, whereas wood, ironstone and metals would be used with Herculon and more casual fabrics.

"Mirrors are always good to use with any style or to give a room a feeling of being larger than it is."

As far as pictures are concerned, Mrs. Rice related a number of ways to use and group pictures, but again, she stressed it was a matter of personality as to what to use. "There is no set rule anymore, it depends on the individual."

When asked how to hang pictures so they were straight and evenly spaced, Mrs. Rice gave the members this helpful hint: "You can use graph paper to make a scale drawing for the placement of pictures, but the best way I have found is to cut newspaper or wrapping paper the size of your picture. Put the paper on the wall where you want the picture placed. Find exactly where the nail goes, and put it in. Then, just tear away the paper and hang your pictures."

Family pictures and the question of whether or not it was good taste to hang them was discussed. Mrs. Rice said "Family pictures are again a matter of personal taste. There are a number of ways to group these pictures and they can be used in the den, hall or bedroom. I don't like to see frames with family pictures sitting on tables, and stereos, I think they look better on the wall."

Mrs. Rice told the ladies not to leave the walls in their children's rooms bare, instead, to let the children make their own pictures and decorations.

Plants and their use in a room was also discussed. "Plants do a lot for a room, too. Not just one, but several as accessories."

"Use candles all the time, not just for company, and don't hide your silver and crystal. Use it and enjoy it. It has to be cleaned, but don't have to clean everything else," Mrs. Rice urged the members to unpack and take out of storage those wedding presents and other items that they had hidden away.

Mrs. Rice related that green and gold were the easiest colors to mix and match, while blue and red are the hardest. "Blues don't blend as well as greens and golds."

As a final note, Mrs. Rice told the ladies that "What you feel is a good combination is usually right. If you have doubts as to whether or not a piece will blend, don't use it, it is probably wrong. It is better to mix styles of furniture, otherwise a room can be boring. Traditional furniture mixes well with anything. But still, most decorating is a matter that is personal and at best will show the personality of the individual."

Those members present were Nancy Bagley, Jane Wheeler, Marilyn Pitt, Deanna Varner, Kathy Gilbert, Millie Wallis, Suzie Teer, Cassie Clark, Martha Kent, Billie Clark, Jean Magee, Lynda Cooper, Celia Mitchell, Sharon Williams, Kay Madewell, Renee Williams, LouAnne Workman, Anne Bell, Marcea Durden, Cheryl Reff, Jean Miller, and Mary Truitt.

Buff Squad Comes In Last In MVC Pick

West Texas State University's 1973-74 basketball team was picked to finish ninth in the Missouri Valley Conference race this past weekend by coaches and sports information directors of Valley schools in Tulsa.

Coach Ron Ekker's Buffaloes were picked last by 14 of the 17 persons voting.

Louisville, with four returning starters off last year's team which reached the National Invitational Tournament in New York, was picked to win the conference by 13 of the 17 voting.

Tulsa, which returns all-conference performers Willie Biles and Sammy High, was picked second and the veteran Wichita State club was picked third.

Other teams in order of their selection were St. Louis, Drake, Bradley, New Mexico State and North Texas State.

"We were picked last in the conference," said Ekker to a Tulsa booster club group Monday at noon, "but I'm sure our players would not have ranked us down that low if they had been given the opportunity to vote."

The new West Texas State coach said he returns only two starters and one other player who saw much playing time last year during a 2-12 Valley season. The starters are senior forward Hector Rodriguez and 6-8 sophomore center Reginald Ramey. Guard Jay Benn saw more playing time than the other two let-termen — center Garry Two-termen and forward Rob Graham.

Ekker said he will depend upon junior college transfers and new freshmen for a bulk of the players on this year's Buffalo team.

Biles, High and Louisville's Ulysses Bridgeman and Al Murphy were unanimous selections on the pre-season All-Missouri Valley Conference team, as selected by the eight sports information directors attending the two-day meeting.

Others named to the all-conference team were Rich Morsden, Wichita State; Seymour Reed, Bradley; Bobby Iverson, North Texas State; and Robin Jones, St. Louis.

Others receiving votes were Cal Bruton, Wichita State; Bill Butler and Terry Howard, Louisville; Craig Davis and Ron Caldwell, Drake; Joe Bostic and Roland Grant, New Mexico State; Billy Morris, St. Louis; Joe Casey, West Texas State; and Stan Blackmon, North Texas State.

Bible Study Group

Has Housewarming

A Butterfly Bible Study group meeting turned into an old fashioned pantry party and housewarming Sunday evening to surprise Mrs. Jean Galloway and her daughters. Those in on the surprise numbered 36 coming from Canyon, Amarillo, and the Clovis area, and included fellow teachers from Canyon High School, Sunday School classmates, and friends from the First Baptist Church.

Hostesses for the party were Mesdames Mary Walling, Korye Martin, Ann Brown, Lou-dene West, and Edith Priddy. Miss Judy Willis, a WTSU sophomore, accompanied by Mrs. Grace Knighton, sang "Bless This House, O Lord We Pray."

Overwhelmed at the unexpected party, Mrs. Galloway replied, "One is rich who has friends."

Pianist Thomas Schumacher To Perform Here Oct. 30

Thomas Schumacher, one of the nation's most highly-acclaimed young pianists and a winner of numerous important prizes in music, will appear Oct. 30 in Canyon under auspices of the Community Concerts Association.

Schumacher, who has been hailed by the New York Times for his "beautifully refined playing with tonal colors exhaustively employed," will perform at 8 p.m. in the Canyon High School Auditorium. His performance is the first offering on the Community Concerts series.

Schumacher, a native of Butte, Montana, made his New York Town Hall recital debut in 1963, after garnering numerous musical awards, including the Busoni Competition in Bolzano, Italy; the Harold Bauer Award, the Morris Loeb Memorial Prize, the Frank Damrosch Scholarship, and the J.U.G.G. Award, which led to his Town Hall debut.

Last October, Schumacher returned to Manhattan, where he received kudos from music critics following a recital in Alice Tully Hall at the new Juilliard School of Music in Lincoln Center.

When not touring, Schumacher is artist-in-residence at the University of Maryland. His proximity to the capitol has made him a great favorite with Washington music fans. In August, 1971, Schumacher and three artistic colleagues performed 10 of the monumental sonatas of Alexander Scriabin, in honor of the 100th anniversary of the Russian composer.

In 1970, the artist also received accolades in the capitol for first performances with the National Symphony in Constitution Hall and for a recital which climaxed the annual Matthay Festival.

Known as a superb recitalist, Schumacher has been welcomed as a soloist with major orchestras of the world including the New York Philharmonic which engaged him in 1966 to perform the world premiere of David Diamond's new Piano Concerto. The performance was widely heard via radio broadcasts by the orchestra. The young pianist also appeared with the Atlanta Symphony, the Toronto Symphony and the Milwaukee Symphony. His many recitals throughout the land include performances in Washington, Baltimore, St. Louis, Kansas City (Mo.), and Albany, N.Y.

In spring of 1965, Schumacher made an extensive tour of Poland and was acclaimed by critics throughout that country. After appearing with the prestigious Warsaw Philharmonic conducted by Josef Wilkomirski, Schumacher travelled to Japan for guest appearances with the Tokyo Philharmonic under the direction of Yuzo Toyama, and a televised concert with the Yomi-yuri Nippon Orchestra.

Born and reared in Butte, Schumacher became interested in music at the age of three. His first teacher was Fisher Thompson of Butte, whom Schumacher claims was the greatest single influence on his life. Later Schumacher studied under Robert Goldsand of the Manhattan School of Music and later attended Juilliard where his mentors were Beveridge Webster and Adele Marcus. Presently, Schumacher is enrolled in the Doctor of Musical Arts curriculum at Juilliard.

Of composers of this era, Schumacher says he considers Prokofiev to be the 20th century spokesman, and he also admires early Stravinsky and some of Bartok's works.

Of American composers, he prefers Gershwin and early Aaron Copland but feels that Leonard Bernstein is the American with the most to say musically.
